SUBSCRIPTIONS

Solicitors for Semi-Centennial Fund Meet with Generous Responses. Many Dollar Subscriptions Received from Among the Stores and Offices of the Town-Names of Additional Subscribers.

Solicitors for the semi-centennial celebration went abroad yesterday and returned with a host of small contributions of amounts of one dollar and upwards. For each subscription a certificate of membership in the jubilce fund was issued, and the sight of the certificates will be a familiar one about the stores and offices where they are proudly displayed by the holders. As successful as vesterday's canvass was, today's is expected to be better, and it will grow as the days pass until there will be a fund that will guarantee the great, big success that the celebration ought to be. The larger subscriptions can be reached more easily. but it is the smaller ones that will be gone after with energy and perseverance, for the purpose is to have every inhabitant intersted in the jubilee, which is the only way that will bring about a celebration that will befit the occasion and make it a glorious success

NAMES OF OLD RESIDENTS.

The reunion committee is striving hard for the success of its part of the work. It is hoped to make the reunion of the former residents and the townspeople as felicitous an event as it is possible to bring about, and to send the visitors to their homes with pleasant memories of the goodwill and hospitality of the people of their native town.

The following is the list of persons to whom invitations have or will be forwarded, but it is desired that residents who know of any one whose name does not appear herewith, send the same to Secretary Gritman.

AN EVENING OF MUSIC.

Soiree to Take Place at Fern Hall, Crystal Lake.

To those who enjoy good music, well rendered, and a dance under pleasant circumstances, the affair at Fern Hall, Crystal lake, on Tuesday evening, July 30, will be a matter of unusual interest. This is the first concert to be given at Fern Hall this season, and the quality of the talent engaged guarantees a programme of exceptional merit.

The givers of this entertainment will be G. Alexander Russell, of Syracuse, planist, and Raymond N. Hockenberry. bass soloist. Mr. Russell, who is the planist at the hall this season, has received some very flattering press notices from New York papers and the press of other large cities in this part of the country; the Musical Courier (one of the representative musical sheets of than two-thirds of the players one bears nowadays." Mr. Hockenberry, of Carbondale, has endeared himself long since to the music lovers of this vicinity by his artistic handling of his resonant bass Mr. Russell and Mr. Hockenberry will be assisted by the Clark Male quartette and Miss Mina Frank, soprano, both of Carbondale,

The programme, under these circumstances, promises to be one that will interest everyone; and then, the concert is to be followed by dancing, which will make it doubly interesting to many.

A DOUBLE WEDDING.

Hudson-Marshall and Hudson-King Nuptials Solemnized at Baptist Parsonage by Rev. Dr. Whalen.

There was a double wedding selemnized at the Berean Baptist church parsonage yesterday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. H. J. Whalen, D. D. The brides were the daughters of Martin Hudson, of Mayfield yard. Miss Bessie A. Hudson was wedded to Herman D. Marshall, of Greenfield, a prosperous and popular farmholder of that township.

Miss Clara A. Hudson, the other bride, was united to Charles L. King a car repairer in the employ of the Ontario and Western at Mayfield yard. Both brides were becomingly attired in gowns of white. There were no witnesses at the ceremony.

After the tieing of the nuptial knots, the couples enjoyed a ride, and later The list of former residents follows; received their friends and their good Joseph Birkett, W. and A. Mayor Kilpatrick Calls a Special Joint Meeting of Councils for This Evening to Take Action to Meet the Proceedings Commenced by the

MUNICIPAL WATER

Consolidated Water Company. When Mayor Kilpatrick learned last had been started to restrain the sale of bonds for the proposed municipal water plant, he immediately issued a special call for a joint meeting of ouncils this evening.

The mayor is calling councils together to ascertain what course they want to pursue with respect to defending the city in the litigation brought about by the petitioners in the application for an injunction, the account of which is detailed in the court news of today's Tribune. Yesterday's proceedings were not a surprise to those active in the movement for a municipal water plant; in fact, it was anticipated from the outset of the long struggle for the acquirement the union) even went so far as to say of the proposed water system, and the that "Mr. Russell is a better planist course that the mayor deems expedient will be indicated in a message that he will send to councils tonight. The recommendations that he may make, it is expected, will be favorably acted up on by councils, for when the ordinance providing for the issue of the bonds for the construction of the plant went through councils, there was only one dissenting voice.
